Soil Conservation Service Administrator To Retire Soon

Donald A. Williams, one of the world's great conservationists, will soon retire from an outstanding career as administrator of the U.S. Soil Conservation Service, according to Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman.

Upon retirement, Dr. Williams will become a full-time program advisor on water management and development for the Ford Foundation in India on a program to help that country increase food production. He has served part-time in that capacity for the year and has made several trips to India and to Turkey, Costa Rica, Thailand, Vietnam and New Zealand.

Dr. Williams, the third administrator of SCS, directed the agency during the period of its greatest change, Secretary Freeman said. He came up through the ranks after serving SCS in various technical and administrative positions, beginning in 1935 as a Civilian Conservation Corps camp superintendent.

Trained as an engineer at South Dakota State University, he was best known in technical circles for his work in water conservation of the western States.

"Don Williams has been responsible for many innovations such as the small watershed program, the Great Plains Conservation Program, and was the first man to call attention to our growing land use, erosion, and water supply problems brought about by rapid conversion of rural lands to urban uses," Secretary Freeman said.

Dr. Williams received the Rockefeller Public Service Award in Administration in 1967, he received the Distinguished Service award of the National Association of Soil and Water Conservation Districts in 1957, and the Distinguished Service Award of the Department of Agriculture in 1958.

ly and Alfred Huff, St. Helen, are three farmers who have fine beef cow herds. Some of their calves that were born last spring will be auctioned off to the highest bidder Thursday, October 17, at a Cooperative Feeder Cattle Sales in West Branch.

The highest bidder will be a cattle feeder from lower Michigan's corn belt, below Mount Pleasant. The 400 pound calves will be put on a high concentrate feed, mostly of corn with a little protein to balance the diet. The calves will receive only a token amount of hay.

Within six months to a year the calves will weigh nearly 1,000 pounds. At this time they will again be auctioned off. The highest bidder will be a meat processor.

Thirty days later you will be enjoying tender juicy steaks from these choice beef calves, raised in Roscommon and Crawford counties.

There are still some large areas of pasture land in the area which is ideal for beef raising. Although subdivisions are taking some such land, beef cattle raising will be around for a few years yet.

Southern Michigan buyers look to northern Michigan for high quality feeder calves.

THE WORLD'S STRONGEST MAN

The day little Jimmie admired my muscles I was the strongest man in the whole world. And so I remained until the next morning when I got into an argument with that big kid in the next block. Then a humiliating retreat seemed preferable to a bloody nose.

Life hasn't changed much since I've grown up. Sometimes on Sunday I am so confident of my human might that I glibly pass up the spiritual resources my neighbors are finding in church. And by Monday I'm wondering where to turn for help in some insurmountable difficulty.

Experience is forever teaching me that my own self-confidence is mostly self-delusion. The men I admire seem absolutely honest about their own limitations, and absolutely certain about God's strength.

One Sunday as I sat in a pew and watched others receiving Communion this thought struck me: Among those who kneel reverently before an altar today is undoubtedly the world's strongest man.

oting and Safety

favorite gambit of those who favor virtual abolition of the right of U.S. citizens to own firearms is to quote the number of people who die in "by gunfire." The statistic itself is pointless, yet one national publication uses it to argue that anyone who wants to buy a gun must be a reasonable cause why he wants it. In other words, in the matter of guns, this publication is police-type surveillance of private citizens.

On the same basis, mortality statistics could be used to support the abolition of a great many things — the bathtub, for instance. Thousands of people are killed or injured falling in bathtubs each year. Of course, it would be ridiculous to attempt to eliminate the bathtub or the automobile. But then it is any less ridiculous to attempt to eliminate gun ownership on the basis that such action would cure the crime. As a matter of fact, guns and their ownership are a responsible citizenry under a moderate regulation are a most basic and essential part of life. In time of war, the legendary marksmanship of U.S. rifleman has been a source of pride and national security.

The great body of U.S. sportsmen today are a solid lot when it comes to guns. And, they have good reason to be. There are countless clubs, organizations that make it a business to provide safety and intelligent use of firearms. One of the most prominent in this area is the National Rifle Association, whose work to educate public citizens in the safe and efficient use of arms for pleasure and protection, began back in 1871. The NRA's Hunter Safety Course has been in existence as an effective tool in the hands of game and conservation administrators to reduce hunting accidents.

Continuing safety education and re-establishment of respect for the law, as well as stern enforcement of laws already on the books, are the best ways to the so-called gun problem.

Interesting Events In Grayling 23 Years Ago

INTERESTING ITEMS OF NEWS GATHERED FROM THE FILES OF THE AVALANCHE OF 23 YEARS AGO

Oct. 11, 1945

Lt. Thomas R. Welsh has received his discharge from the Army after having seen 40 months service with the armed forces, 12 months of which was spent in Italy. He was with the 15th Air Force. He arrived in Grayling Sunday from Indian- town Gap, Reservation, Separation Center. Capt. Fred Welsh is on his way home from Luzon and expects to arrive at the end of the month. The boys are sons of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Welsh.

Captain Clyde Borchers is spending a 45 day leave with Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Borchers, arriving from Romulus Field, Detroit. He has been in the armed services over four years, 2 1/2 years of this time overseas. He wears the Distinguished Flying Cross, the Air Medal with one Oak Leaf Cluster, the Asiatic, Pacific and American Theater Campaign Ribbon, the Pearl Harbor Ribbon, the India Burma Battle Star and the China Battle Star. He plans to continue his Army career and will return to Stockton, Calif., at the termination of his leave.

Pvt. First Class Francis G. Annis son of Mr. and Mrs. Homer Annis has been awarded a Bronze Star Medal for heroic service in connection with military operations against the enemy on Okinawa Island on June 8, 1945. Friendly aircraft attacked his company's position by mistake on June 8, 1945 marking the center of the small company area with smoke rockets as a bombing target for six bombers. This happened so unexpectedly that there was confusion and practically all the men were exposed to merciless bombing. Pvt. First Class Annis, although momentarily dazed by one of the smoke rockets, realized the seriousness of his company's predicament and acted on his own initiative in a brilliant manner. Exposing himself to possible strafing, rockets and bombs, he obtained a red smoke grenade several yards away and exploded the grenade in a clear spot. Although one of the bombers released a bomb load which killed two men, the five other pilots saw this red smoke signal and did not release their bomb loads. The entire company position would have been wiped out and many lives lost without the timely presence of mind and courageous actions of Private First Class Annis. His actions reflect great credit upon himself and the military service. Pvt. Annis having been previously awarded the Purple Heart was awarded a Bronze Oak Leaf Cluster for wounds received in action against the enemy on June 12th, 1945, near Iwa, Okinawa Island while serving with the 96th Infantry Division.

T/4 Robert M. Hanson arrived in Grayling Tuesday after receiving his discharge from the Army at Indian town Gap, Pa. Bob has seen three of the 3 1/2 years that he has been in the service in Africa, England and Italy with the 752 Tank Battalion.

S/Sgt. George Hanson has received his discharge from the service at Fort Sheridan, Ill., and arrived home on Friday. He has seen three years service with almost two years spent in England and Normandy with the 434 troop carrier squadron.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Bishaw and Mrs. Lloyd Perry and daughters Lola and Pat with S 1/c Hazen Hatfield recently visited Lloyd Perry Jr. in Rogers City, when his boat, the G. G. Crawford of the Pittsburgh Line docked there.

Cpl. Clement Blaine, son of Mrs. Minnie Blaine is enjoying civilian life once more having received his discharge at Fort Sheridan, Ill., after serving 39 months with the armed forces. Three years of this time was spent overseas. He was associated with the 8th Air Force in England and the 9th Air Force in France. Clement was awarded the ETO Ribbon with one star and the Good Conduct Medal.

Grayling Rebekah Lodge gave a birthday party at the home of Mrs. Minnie Hartley on Thursday evening, Oct. 4 in honor of Mrs. Martha Piersoll's 82nd birthday. A cake with lighted candles centered the table. Cards and games were enjoyed and Mrs. Piersoll and Mrs. Quigley received first prizes and Mrs. Gust and Mrs. Cooper received consolations.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry J. Hedrick of Flint spent the weekend at their cottage at Lake Margrethe and called on their former neighbors the J. E. Strongs while here.

Bobby Strong celebrated his sixth birthday anniversary on Saturday with nine little friends to help him. The children enjoyed the refreshments completely with a red, white, and blue cake and ice cream, and Bobby had a jolly time opening the gifts the children brought. Loreli Schmidt won a prize for pinning the tail on a donkey and Patty Lou Hunter won the story telling contest. The children then progressed to the show and saw "Swinging on a Rainbow."

Grayling Company Joins In Natural Gas Marketing Venture

Northern Michigan Land Co., of which Melvin K. Nielson of Grayling is president, has joined with Murrell, Thomas B. Mask and Ray D. Markel, Jackson, Mich., to form a new company to develop and market natural gas in the Otsego area.

The Otsego area is different and certain to attract continuing interest from both the developing and marketing sides of the industry. The productive horizon at the Otsego field is Antrim shale. The Antrim blankets the state at different depths and thicknesses and often has been found to carry gas. The only previous commercial development, however, has been in the Otsego area some 10 miles northwest of the newer and larger development, with only a limited industrial market.

Developers and marketers have a target date of Nov. 1 for completion of facilities. The initial program is aimed at an average field sale of 2 million feet daily.

The drilling and operation of wells has been by the State of Michigan, a joint venture with Welch acting as general manager and superintendent. The affiliated company for marketing is the Antrim Gas Company, a Michigan corporation to purchase and gather. This company has as officers, Thomas B. Mask, president; Melvin K. Nielson, vice president; Ray D. Markel, secretary; and Ray D. Markel, treasurer.

Completing the corporate set-up is the Antrim Pipeline Company, a Michigan corporation, for transporting gas from the Otsego field to the main line near the village of Waters. Officers are Melvin K. Nielson, president; Ray D. Markel, vice president; Thomas B. Mask, treasurer; and Ray D. Markel, secretary.

Welch will serve as general manager and superintendent for the entire operation. Ray Blair, in the industry for some 25 years, has been named field manager, and will be located at Gaylord.

Home business offices of the three companies will be at 123 E. Broadway, Box 442, Mt. Pleasant.

The group is shooting an estimated half million dollars on the Antrim gas prospect. That's not a bag of popcorn even in 1968. If the gamble is good as the drill-hardened group fully expects, the industry at large is certain to take a new look at the potential of this millions of cubic feet of Antrim formation in Michigan.

Utilities are sure to keep a close eye on the well and field performance; not only as a gas source, but as a storage holder. Welch, an engineer-developer, really fathered this particular Antrim play. He had watched it from earlier exploration and was convinced the Chester formation is a respectable gas reserve. Welch and group drilled the discovery in 1965 and now have 17 wells ready to produce. Wells are on 40-acre units but have been drilled diagonally to apparently prove up almost double the 700 drilled acres. The field area as drilled is in sections 10, 11, 14 and 15-29-2w, Chester township, Otsego county. Completion depths average 1500 feet.

Completion records indicate that flows into the six million range were established, although this figure was the exception. A number tested from one to two million.

Developers calculate they have a minimum of 31 million volume established at the present time. It has been indicated that the field will be produced on a "run and rest" basis. That is, a given number of wells will be produced for a period like 80 days, and then rested while another group of wells is opened to the line. This procedure is expected will permit wells to almost "self generate" to original volumes and pressures — and offset the factors of slow percolation of gas in the Antrim formation.

Construction of necessary facilities is now going on under contract to Somerville Construction Co., home based at Grand Rapids. Besides the field gathering system and main line to the M-Con tie-in near Waters village, the facility will include a compressor station and gas filtering plant.

Years ago, a major company spokesman said if they can ever develop volume in the Antrim, a field should last forever. Welch and group will be satisfied with something less than forever, but they do look for a long production.

You Can Help Make Happy Xmas

Once again Traverse City State Hospital is getting an early start on its very important Christmas program.

Many patients in the institution have no friends or relatives who care, and were it not for the generosity and thoughtfulness of many individuals, church groups, clubs, civic organizations, schools, etc., they would not have the enjoyable Christmas which they, too, deserve.

For several years now, the generosity of interested people in the Traverse City State Hospital's 39 county community area has provided a joyous holiday season for the patients being cared for at Traverse City. Again this year the hospital invites participation in this very important aspect of its program and individuals and groups are urged to assist by sending gifts for patients.

To make the program run as smoothly as possible with the utmost in effectiveness, the following points should be observed:

All Christmas gifts should be new. They need not be expensive but they should be new.

Christmas gifts should not be wrapped, and this year it is not necessary to send wrapping paper. Tying material, however, is still needed.

Donors are requested to carefully pack their gifts, making sure that all breakable items are sufficiently padded and that liquid materials have sufficient packing to absorb the contents of the bottles. In this respect, also, senders should be very sure the package carries sufficient postage. Packages should be addressed to Community Relations Department, Box C, Traverse City, Michigan, and should always carry the sender's return address.

Any group or persons interested in taking part in Traverse City State Hospital's 1968 Christmas emphasis and needing further information should write as quickly as possible to the Community Relations Department. Mailing stickers, printed Christmas gift lists and shipping instructions will be sent in reply.

Individuals and groups should keep in mind that patients can use any kind of Christmas gift which would be enjoyed by any boy or girl, man or woman in any family.

"...didn't even know she was married"

Well, she's married all right. You could have read about it a year ago on page six. Her wedding announcement was printed in the same newspaper that recorded her parents' wedding, her birth, her graduation, and now the beginning of another generation.

When each of these events took place they were duly noted and set down in permanent print in the continuing record of your community. From birth and death announcements to chronicling the mighty events of war and peace, newspapers have been printing the facts in America since pre-Colonial times. And if you believe that "printing the facts" is easy, you should sit in an editor's chair, sometime.

If it's in print it stays there. It can be checked and double-checked. It forms a permanent record. It's not chatter in the air, loose talk "... whose edge is sharper than the sword, whose tongue out-venoms all the worms of Nile, whose breath rides on the posting winds..." as Shakespeare put it.

You may take this service lightly. You should live, then, in a community without a newspaper. You would probably find that, without the modifying force of printed news, the winds of slander and controversy would be blowing pretty hard.

W.W.I BARRACKS AND AUXILIARY

World War I veterans of the AuSable Barracks No. 3388 and Auxiliary held their meeting at the American Legion Hall for the month of October, to vote on the change in the present pension laws. A press release follows:

Charity Slater, President Department of Michigan Ladies Auxiliary to the Veterans of World War I, U.S.A., Congressionally chartered and the third largest veterans organization in the nation, asks all wives and widows of the veterans of World War I on the golden anniversary of that war, whether or not they believe that the veteran of World War I and his widow are entitled to a separate pension for veterans similar to that now enjoyed by the Spanish War veterans and their widows, and as was enjoyed by the veterans of all previous wars of the United States of America.

It has been 50 years since World War I ended with the Armistice, and it has been all but forgotten. Any pension now received by the veteran of World War I and his widow, other than service-connected, is based on need and income limitations which in effect makes it a dole similar to that of a welfare grant. The veteran of World War I and his widow only want the same benefits as have been enjoyed by all veterans of all previous wars, and certainly does not want to be a part of a system that brings him under a Welfare Program.

An interesting and informative program was given by H. J. Harris and Capt. William Barber of the Michigan Traffic Safety Div. Harris gave a discussion on the "Implied Consent Law." He said one of the purposes of the law is to protect the innocent. It is also an effective statutory tool to help rid the streets and highways of a deadly menace and make them safe for all of us.

Capt. Barber demonstrated the "Breathalyzer." At the time the machine was first made available on Nov. 2, 1967, members of the police force had the opportunity for free training in its operation. Since then however, there is a fee.

Which are the largest football stadiums in America? Well, there are only three which can seat more than 100,000 people. Can you name all three? They are the Rose Bowl in Pasadena, Calif., The University of Michigan Stadium in Ann Arbor, Mich., and Municipal Stadium in Philadelphia where the Army Navy game is played.

Do you know how many college football teams in the last 40 years have been able to go through a season unbeaten, untied and UNSCORED ON? Only three teams have done it in all this time. They were Colgate in 1932, Duke in 1930 and Tennessee in 1939, and no team has been able to do it since then.

ST. JOHN LUTHERAN CHURCH NEWS

Members of St. John Lutheran Church met for a pot-luck dinner and family night at the church parlors on Thursday evening, October 3. The occasion also marked the observance of the fifteenth wedding anniversary of Pastor and Mrs. Robert Haskel, and a lovely themed anniversary cake, decorated in white and yellow, was cut and served by the honored couple. Pastor Haskel gave a short talk on the use of folk music in relation to church liturgy and hymns, which was illustrated by the playing of records. Mimeographed copies of this type of music were passed around, and the congregation joined in a "sing-along," which concluded a very pleasant evening.

Several young people from St. John Lutheran Church enjoyed a trail ride and overnight camp-out September 27 and 28. The group, consisting of Andrew and Ann Haskel, Mark and Craig Dandy, Wayne SanCartier and Penny Dillon, chaperoned by Otto Dillon, left on Friday afternoon, made camp at the Manistee River, and returned again on Saturday afternoon.
